

On 20th June JIS Group Education Initiative in association with Telegraph organized a Thoughtshop on the topic

“Happy people make better teachers”. The speaker was a renowned personality of national and international repute - Barry O' Brian. It was a splendid session, very entertaining, inspiring and charged the entire JIS family with electrifying energy. It was not a clichéd workshop with routine activities rather a Thoughtshop with nonstop brainstorming sessions and interactions. The speaker conveyed the message of happiness in a very lucid manner and helped the faculty members to grasp the content with spontaneity and interest. The presentation was very simple but potent enough to carry serious messages in our life. Barry opened different facets of our mind by constantly highlighting his personal experiences in life. The entire audience internalized his personal experiences to think in a better way rather in a positive way. His messages redefined the meaning of student teacher relationship and we can vouch that we the JIS group will follow the new direction in our teaching methodology. Altogether it was wonderful experience and a self realization for the teachers about what they are doing and what more they can do for the betterment of the students.
